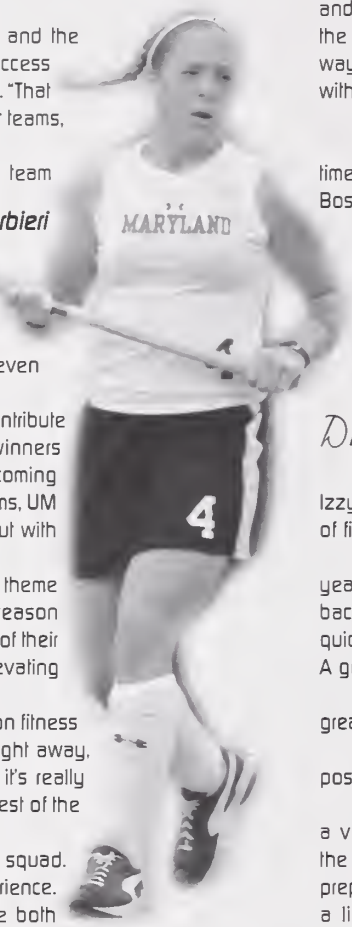
2003 Terrapin Outlook

The focus for the 2003 field hockey team is Maryland P.R.I.D.E.: Personal Responsibility In Daily Effort. It sounds like a simple concept but it is what Terrapin head coach Missy Meharg believes will carry the team to win its' fourth NCAA Championship title in school history.

"If we can instill PRIDE into the athletes, and the program and really get them to buy into it, success and winning will be the byproduct," says Meharg. "That has been our philosophy when we've had great teams, championships teams. I know it works."

This edition of the Maryland field hockey team has a standard of hockey to live up to, one that is rooted in the historical success of the program which includes three national championships, back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Final Four in 1999 and 2000, and seven overall, and five ACC crowns.



Colleen Barbieri

Every team member is expected and can contribute to the success of this team. With 12 letterwinners returning, seven starters back, and a talented incoming class with three transfers from quality D-I programs, UM has 24-player roster that is balanced throughout with a lot of depth at all.

The Terps seem to be buying into Meharg's theme already. The players have come into the preseason with an extremely high level of fitness, evidence of their hard work and dedication over the summer, elevating the standard of daily practice.

"Many of the players passed the preseason fitness test. The freshmen have also come in ready. Right away, we will be in a great competitive position and it's really nice to have the freshmen be able to push the rest of the team," comments Meharg.

The team coming in this season is a young squad. Only three players have NCAA Final Four experience. Juniors Colleen Barbieri and Kristin Harris were both freshmen on the 2000 national semifinal squad, while classmate Sara Silvetti was a redshirt freshman. However, with the depth, physical preparedness and PRIDE, this team has all the ingredients of a championship team.

OFFENSE

Two years ago, Maryland was the top-ranked team in the nation in scoring offense, but last year, the Terps slipped a bit and finished the year rated No. 14.

"To be statistically in the top five in the nation in scoring, you have to hit and be consistent on penalty corners. That is something we work very hard on and we feel confident we are in a much better place [than last year]," states Meharg. "At the same time, last year's attack, in general, was exceedingly young."

Another year goes by and another year wiser, Barbieri, along with her tremendous speed, will continue to be the main threat for the Terps. A 2000 ACC Rookie of the Year, she was second on the team in scoring, en route to earning All-America honors for the first time.

Sophomore Tiffany Marsh is an incredible shooter who is coming off of a successful freshman campaign where she led all rookie Terps in scoring (eight goals, 10 points). Classmate Jackie Ciconte was not far behind Marsh, tallying six goals and 13 points. She will be looked for to make significant contributions once again.

Also a sophomore, Lauren Powley earned All-America honors last year. She started every game last season and has the ability to score coming out of the midfield.

Sophomore Lauren Foundos has returned to campus in incredible shape and freshman Megan Fox gained valuable experience and was successful in the Futures program over the summer. Classmate Anja Boettcher comes all the way from Germany. She is technically sound and the coaching staff is impressed with her scoring abilities.

Junior transfer Meredith Long has an innate ability to score and will see time at midfield. Long comes to College Park after two successful seasons at Boston University, a solid program out of the America East.

Lauren Pruitt is the only true senior on the squad. She made the team as a walkon and has had a successful three years with UM's club team. Speedy and very athletic, she will also look to contribute on the forward line.

"What we have is a very well-balanced attack of 10 players and a well-balanced defense of 14. The players we have coming in are very homogeneous and can go either way," states Meharg.

DEFENSE

In the backfield, the Terps will have to overcome the loss of All-American Izzy Palmer but any current Terp has the ability to step up and take over the role of field general.

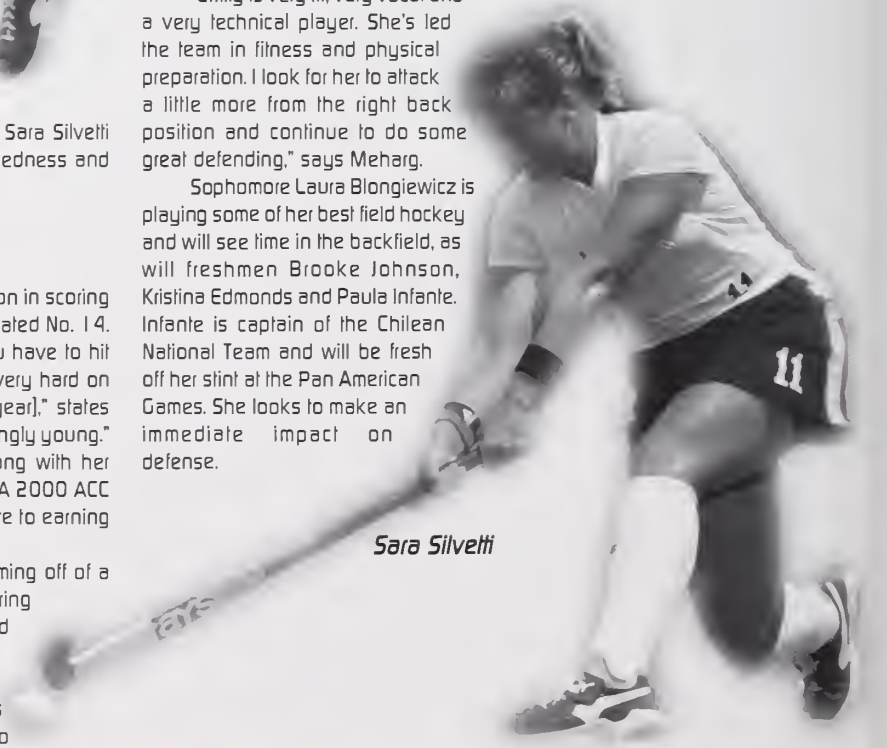
After redshirting her freshman campaign, junior Sara Silvetti is the only four-year player on the roster. One of the team's co-captains, she will play the left back position, one of the most challenging positions on the field. Silvetti has very quick hands and can direct the entire defense from her position on the left side. A good communicator, she has the best possession skills on the team.

Fellow co-captain Kristin Harris will be playing in the midfield line. She has great attacking skills and a contagious work rate.

Returning as the team's top tackler is junior Emily Boyer. She'll return to her position at right back where she exhibits strong tackles.

"Emily is very fit, very vocal and a very technical player. She's led the team in fitness and physical preparation. I look for her to attack a little more from the right back position and continue to do some great defending," says Meharg.

Sophomore Laura Blongiewicz is playing some of her best field hockey and will see time in the backfield, as will freshmen Brooke Johnson, Kristina Edmonds and Paula Infante. Infante is captain of the Chilean National Team and will be fresh off her stint at the Pan American Games. She looks to make an immediate impact on defense.



Sara Silvetti

GOALKEEPERS

"Marybeth has been a great addition to the staff," said Meharg of her newest assistant coach Marybeth Freeman.""She has a successful background to draw from as a national champion and a successful goalkeeper at Old Dominion."

Freeman will mentor the Terps three goaltenders, each of which has plenty to offer the squad. Junior Kerry Hearsey is the most experienced netminder of the three. She ended the season ranked fourth in the nation with a 1.04 goals against average. She was also in the net in the four-consecutive shutout matches that tied the school record.

Sophomore Tori Cano is very athletic. She gained valuable experience towards the end of the year, logging quality minutes in the NCAA Tournament, claiming a win against William & Mary in the first round of action.

Also vying for time is redshirt freshman Christina Restivo. She has improved her communication from the cage and is physically ready to compete for playing minutes.

NEWCOMERS

Ten newcomers join the squad in 2003, ranging from three transfers, a walkon and four true freshmen.

True freshmen Kristina Edmonds, Emily Trycinski and Megan Fox all hail from the Keystone State. Edmonds' resume includes playing at the Junior Olympics, playing for the U-16 U.S. National Team and was selected as an alternate to the U.S. Under-20 squad. Fox has been successful with her club squad, was named all-conference and participated in the National Futures Tournament. Trycinski also participated in the Futures Tournament and was a two-sport athlete in high school.

True freshmen Brooke Johnson and Paula Infante and junior Anja Boettcher all travel a far distance to play for the Terps. All three bring a lot of playing experience and are ready to compete. Johnson comes from Australia, Boettcher has waited two year to be a Terp and will finally get her chance traveling from Germany. Infante, a native of Chile, will be close to her sister, Camila, who will be playing for nearby American University.

Junior Heather Kenney comes to Maryland after two seasons at the University of Massachusetts. She started 33 of 39 games played for the Minutewomen. Kenney will be joined by Meredith Long from Boston University.

Sophomore Emily Beach is a defender who spent two seasons at the conference rival University of Virginia. A local product from Bethesda, Md., she was a Washington Post All-Met Player of the Year and Montgomery Journal Player of the Year. Beach will roam the sidelines this coming season and learn the Terps' system.

Lauren Pruitt is a senior who joins the team after walking on in the spring. Also a local product, she was a member of the Maryland field hockey club team for three years and was the team's leading scorer.

FACILITY

Not only is the Maryland field hockey team looking forward to the new season, but they are also looking forward to a brand new facility which will be one of the top F.I.H. (International Field Hockey Federation) facilities in the world.

"I can honestly say the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex will be one of the premier F.I.H. facilities in the world. Everything from the playing surface to the remote control six-gun cannon watering system is top notch. The scoreboard is magnificent and the elevated tan seating will be close to the action, making this a terrific hockey venue," says Meharg with great enthusiasm for the new Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex. "I couldn't be happier for our athletes to compete in such an outstanding facility."

The new turf will be ready for the Terps' Terrapin Invitational which opens the home slate. Phase II, which includes the main entrance with iron gates, storage, concessions, visiting and officials locker rooms and bathrooms will begin during the season, followed by phase III which will complete the facility including home locker rooms, an equipment room, media rooms and a training facility.

Surrounded on three sides with trees, Maryland will have built a picturesque facility where the focus will be on hockey.

SCHEDULE

"There are advantages to opening at UMass. The biggest is that it is tranquil. It's a great place to get away after a tough couple weeks of preseason. The field is terrific. It is one of the best playing surfaces in the country and a great place to play," says Meharg.

"With that said, we are going to make Amherst our home anticipating a return trip in November for the Final Four," continues Meharg.

At UMass, the Terps will play three games over the Labor Day weekend beginning with New Hampshire on Aug. 30. On Aug. 31 the Minutewomen and UM square off and, after a day off, Maryland battles Quinnipiac on Sept. 2 to close out the trip up North.

The first of the home-and-home series with perennial poiwer Old Dominion takes place on Sept. 6 in Norfolk, Va., which sets up a nine-game homestand.

The Terps will get their first opportunity to compete at the new Field Hockey and Lacrosse Complex Sept. 12-14, as UM hosts the Terrapin Invitational which features local rival American, Pacific and Rutgers.

Maryland will host Michigan out of the Big Ten for a rematch of the 1999 and 2001 NCAA championship games on Sept. 19.

Back-to-back home contests against the top teams in the Ivy League, Harvard (Sept. 21) and Princeton (Sept. 26), will be the last preparation before the start of ACC competition.

Last year's national champion Wake Forest visits College Park on Sept. 28 and Virginia also pays the Terps a visit on Oct. 4.

One of the top teams in the Big Ten, Ohio State closes out the nine-game home stretch for UM on Oct. 5. The game will also mark the first televised contest from the new facility as College Sports Television (CSTV) will broadcast the match.

Maryland finally hits the road again for a game at Duke, which could be the surprise of the ACC, on Oct. 11. The Terps return home for two more games, including another contest on Oct. 18 against the Lady Monarchs. This time, the match will take place within the friendly confines of the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex.

A trip to North Carolina on Oct. 25 closes out the ACC regular season slate and the Terps host American on Oct. 28 to close out the regular season home schedule. James Madison plays host to Maryland for the regular season finale on Oct. 31.

This year's ACC Tournament will be hosted by the Cavaliers, Nov. 6-9. The Terps look to regain their championship title after losing in the title game last year for the first time in five years.

NCAA Tournament action begins Nov. 6-9 at campus sites and the semifinals and title games scheduled for Nov. 21 and 23 in Amherst, Mass.

Head Coach Missy Meharg

DELAWARE '85 • 16TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

2002 Mid-Atlantic Region Coach of the Year; Four-Time National Coach of the Year

Missy Meharg could be thought of as a coach who has guided the Maryland field hockey program to two NCAA titles and six national semifinal appearances. She might be referred to as a leader who has won five Atlantic Coast Conference championships, directing the Terrapins to four straight titles from 1998-2001. She could be recognized as a motivator who has been named the National Field Hockey Coaches Association National Coach of the Year four times, most recently in 2001. She might also be known as a mentor whose student-athletes have garnered 61 All-America citations on the field and 131 ACC Academic Honor Roll awards outside the lines. Further, she could be seen as an instructor who has developed 35 players who have competed internationally, or that three of her former players are currently playing at the highest level with the U.S. National Field Hockey team.

Though Meharg's numbers are extraordinary, Maryland's leader, now in her 16th season, is much more. As gifted an educator as she is a coach, Meharg recognizes the ability of athletic competition to teach life lessons. The mentor emphasizes the characteristics of sports that can be used as a vehicle to develop successful lifelong qualities.

"Empowering student-athletes to develop character traits that transcend athletic performance can shape the manner in which the athletes approach everyday life experiences," says Meharg. "A successful life ... lends the opportunity to be a national champion. Keeping hockey fun is vital."

Meharg has played an integral role in all three of Maryland's national championships. She was the head coach for the last two titles (1993 and 1999) and was an assistant coach during the Terps' first run to the national title (1987).

Accolades have come for Meharg in the form of four NFHCA Coach of the Year awards (1991, 1993, 1999, 2001), four ACC Coach of the Year honors (1992, 1995, 1998, 2001) and eight Mid-Atlantic Regional Coach of the Year citations. She enters the 2002 season 13th on the NCAA Division I all-time coaching victories list with 244 wins in her 14 seasons. Last year, Meharg guided a reloaded squad back to the ACC championship game and an eighth-consecutive NCAA Tournament after losing eight seniors.

During her tenure at Maryland, Meharg has coached 35 players who have competed on the international level, including 11 that have represented the United States on the senior national team. In 1996, Meharg served as an assistant coach as former Terp All-American Kate Kauffman-Beach and the U.S. squad competed in the Olympic Games in Atlanta.

The Terps have been represented in the Olympics, the Pan American Games, the World Cup, the Olympic Qualifying Tournament and a host of other international competitions. This past year, former Terp All-Americans Kauffman-Beach and Keli Smith participated in the 2002 Women's World Cup in December in Perth, Australia, the 2nd Women's Champions Challenge in July in Cantania, Italy, and the 2003 Pan American Games in August in the Dominican Republic. Former Terp Dina Rizzo was invited to join the team in the fall of 2002 and participated in the Champions Challenge and Pan Am Games as well.

Meharg's collegiate playing career was nearly as successful as her coaching career is now. She was an All-America forward at the University of Delaware, where she also played lacrosse, from 1981-84. Meharg was a Honda Award nominee in field hockey in 1983, the same year she was named MVP of the East Coast Conference after leading her team in goals, assists and points. The Blue Hen hockey team reached the NCAA championship semifinal round when she was a sophomore in 1982, and Meharg's lacrosse squad won the national championship the following spring.

Meharg enjoyed an impressive seven-year playing career with the U.S. National Team from 1985-91. During that time, she was a member of the 1986 World Cup team and an alternate to the 1987 Pan American and 1988 Olympic teams. She capped her playing career as a member of the 1991 Pan American team and the 1991 U.S. squad that unfortunately missed qualifying for the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona.

Meharg is an accomplished and experienced coach on the international stage. She was a member of the U.S. National Team's coaching staff from 1993-1997, which included her appearance in the 1996 Olympics, the 1994 World Cup in Dublin, Ireland, and the 1995 Pan American Games in Argentina. In 1994 and 1995 she served as the head coach for the U.S. Under-21 team.

During her career, Meharg has been extensively involved with teaching in the U.S. Field Hockey Association Coaching Certification Program. She has completed two different certification programs, entitled "Olympic Solidarity" and "Preliminary Coaching," which are directed by the Federation of International Hockey (F.I.H.). Meharg enjoys doing color commentary work for television and has worked a variety of sports, including field hockey.

Meharg earned a bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Delaware in 1985 and her master's degree in sports psychology from Maryland in 1989. She is the mother of two sons: 11-year old Andre who attends the Norwood School in Bethesda, Md., and 10-year old Genya who goes to Dufief School in Potomac.

Meharg is involved in all facets of collegiate field hockey. She currently serves on the NFHCA All-American Committee and the NCAA Mid-Atlantic Regional Advisory Committee.

Did You Know?

- Since the NFHCA began recognizing the National Coach of the Year in 1990, Missy Meharg's four awards (1991, 1993, 1999 and 2001) are the most for any coach at the college level.
- After the Terps captured NCAA titles in 1993 and 1999, Missy Meharg became one of four coaches in Division I history to have won multiple national championships in field hockey, joining Beth Anders of Old Dominion (9), Karen Shelton of North Carolina (4) and Diane Wright of Connecticut.

ANDREW GRIFFITHS

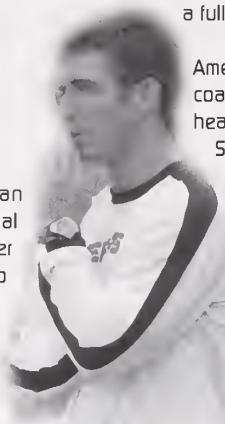
ASSISTANT COACH
W. ONTARIO '95 • RYERSON '98
SIXTH YEAR AT MARYLAND

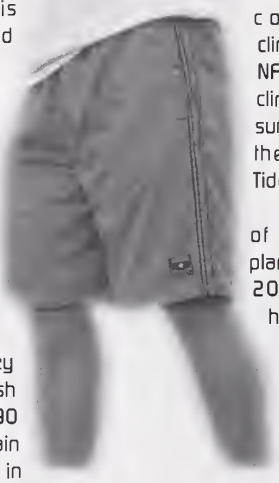
After a stint serving as an assistant coach with the U.S. National Team during the spring and summer months, Andrew Griffiths returns to the Terrapin sidelines for his third season in 2003. The international mentor and former Olympian supervises external operations for the field hockey program, including marketing, media and facility management, while focusing his coaching on the Terps' offense and attack penalty corners.

"Andrew's knowledge of hockey comes from a combination of international experiences," stated head coach Missy Meharg. "He's competed in the Olympics for Canada and in many World Cups. He's played from the sweeper position all the way up through the forward line and understands set pieces so he'll be able to help tremendously on attack penalty corners."

A 1995 graduate of Western Ontario University, Griffiths' coaching resume includes the head position at the helm of his alma mater from 1990-93. He helped guide the Mustangs to their first-ever Canadian top-10 ranking during his final season.

Griffiths was a member of the Canadian National Field Hockey Team from 1989 to 2000. He helped his squad to a 10th-place finish at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia, and played in the 1990 and 1998 World Cups as well. Griffiths served as the squad's captain from 1992-94, and made appearances at the Pan American Games in 1991, 1995 and 1999.





The coach earned a bachelor's degree in English from Western Ontario in 1995, before obtaining his master's degree in journalism in 1998 from Toronto's Ryerson Polytechnic Institute.

Griffiths has risen to a new level of involvement in U.S. hockey since becoming a full-time part of Meharg's coaching staff.

From April to July of this year, Griffiths reunited with former Terrapin All-Americans Kate Kauffman-Beach, Keli Smith and Dina Rizzo as an assistant coach in residency with the U.S. National Team. Serving under Old Dominion head coach Beth Anders, Griffiths accompanied the Stars & Stripes on tours of Spain, Chile and Argentina. He was a selector for the U.S. Pan American Team, and will continue his assistant-coaching responsibilities in the Terps' offseason. Additionally, Griffiths was given the prestigious honor of administering U.S. Field Hockey's B Camp, held at Penn State University this past July.

Griffiths' involvement in U.S. field hockey began to escalate in the last offseason. He attended the National Hockey Festival in Palm Beach County, Fla., in December, 2001, was a presenter at the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) convention in Philadelphia in January of 2002 and served as a coaching clinician at the NFHCA annual clinic at Yale University that spring. During the summer of 2002, he teamed with Anders to coach the United Airlines Field Hockey League's Tidewater Tempest to a fourth-place finish.

Griffiths was the co-founder and editor-in-chief of the international field hockey website, planetfieldhockey.com from its inception in 2000 to 2003. He has co-authored a book titled "Coach Hockey," and has also produced a series of field hockey instructional videos.

2002 Season Review Notebook

TERPS MAKE EIGHTH STRAIGHT NCAA TOURNAMENT APPEARANCE

Terps Reach NCAA Second Round

With a young team featuring only three seniors, the 2002 Maryland field hockey team posted a 17-5 record en route to a final No. 5 national ranking and an eighth-straight appearance for the program in the NCAA Tournament. The Terps posted a pair of dramatic overtime victories in the season's final two weeks to make a fifth straight appearance in the ACC title game and reach the NCAA Tournament's quarterfinal round for the eighth-straight year as well.

The Terrapins have now made 15 NCAA appearances in school history, reaching the quarterfinal round 13 times, the semifinal seven times (1987, 1991, 1993, 1995, 1999, 2000 and 2001), and the championship game five times (1987, 1993, 1995, 1999 and 2001).

Maryland owns three national titles (1987, 1993, 1999) and a 23-12 record all-time in the NCAA Tournament. Head coach Missy Meharg, who guided the Terps to titles in 1993 and 1999, joins only Old Dominion's Beth Anders (9), North Carolina's Karen Shelton (4) and Connecticut's Diane Wright (2) as mentors with multiple national field hockey championships.

Meharg Earns Mid-Atlantic Coach of the Year Honors

After guiding Maryland to its eighth-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and leading the squad to a Top 5 national ranking for the fourth straight season, Maryland head coach Missy Meharg was named the NFHCA Mid-Atlantic Coach of the Year for the eighth time in her career.

Meharg is Maryland's all-time winningest field hockey coach with an overall record of 244-81-9 in 15 seasons. The Wilmington, Del., native was inducted into the University of Delaware's Sports Hall of Fame in 1998 and was inducted into the State of Delaware's Sports Hall of Fame in May of 2001.

Three Terps Named All-Americans

Three members of the Maryland field hockey squad were selected to STX/NFHCA All-America teams, announced by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association. The Terrapins now boast 60 All-America selections in school history.

The only All-American that returned to the Terps' 2002 squad, All-ACC senior Carissa Messimer became a two-time selection in being named to the first team. Messimer led the Terps in goal (16) and points (37), capping her final campaign with a tremendous showing.

Sophomore Colleen Barbieri, a 2002 All-ACC selection, received her first national honor with a first team selection. The sophomore finished second on the squad with 13 goals and 32 points after pacing the Terps as a freshman in 2001.

Senior Izzy Palmer and freshmen Lauren Powley, two key components of the Terrapin defense in 2002, led a backfield that allowed opponents only 1.1 goals on 5.7 shots per game and posted eight shutouts. Palmer was named to the All-America second team, while Powley was a third team selection as a freshman.

Topping The Charts...Again

The Terrapins were ranked No. 1 in the STX/NFHCA Coaches Poll for six weeks during the 2002 season. Maryland finished the season ranked fifth in the nation, as the Terps have been ranked in the Top 5 in every NFHCA Poll in each of the last four years.

Maryland totaled eight victories over teams ranked in the 2002 STX/NFHCA Coaches Top 20.

A Team Of Many Weapons

Having graduated four All-Americans and the 2001 national player of the year among a senior class of eight the season before, the Maryland Terrapins opened the 2002 campaign with a roster that featured 10 newcomers and a starting line-up that included six rookies.

Carissa Messimer

On the offensive end, senior All-American and 2002 All-ACC selection Carissa Messimer led the way with 37 points, followed closely by 2001 ACC Rookie of the Year and 2002 All-America honoree Colleen Barbieri who registered 32 points.

Two-time Mid-Atlantic All-Region senior Kateri Simon adapted well to an increased role in the offense and totaled a team-leading 13 assists, despite playing much of the late regular season and postseason with a broken left thumb. Ten different Terrapins scored goals in Maryland's 22 games, as the Terps outscored their opponents 59-25.

Defensively, the Terrapins finished fourth in the nation in limiting opponents to a 1.10 goals against average and only 5.7 shots per game. Led by All-America backs Izzy Palmer and Lauren Powley, the Terps' talented backfield continued the standard that led the nation in 2001.

Seven Terps Named To 2002 NFHCA Academic Squad

Seven Maryland field hockey players were selected to the 2003 National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) Academic Squad, having attained a 3.3 minimum cumulative grade point average through the 2002 fall semester.

The Terps' seven selections tied North Carolina as the most among ACC schools. Maryland has had 33 academic squad honorees over the past four seasons, an average of more than eight per year.

Defensive back Kristin Harris, whose on-field efforts earned her Mid-Atlantic All-Region honors last fall, is a two-time selection. Harris majors in the Life Sciences.

Courtney Thornton, a sophomore on the playing field but junior in the classroom, became a two-time academic squad selection. The recipient of Maryland's prestigious Banneker/Key Scholarship was a Criminology & Criminal Justice major.

Amber McQuillan, a redshirt freshman on the turf, was a first-time selection to the squad as a Secondary Education/English major. Sophomore Christina Pernia is a first-time honoree as a Biological Resources Engineering major. Freshmen Leah Harner-Kerlavage, Jen Hasemeier, and Tiffany Marsh were selected to the squad after their first semesters on campus. Harner-Kerlavage is an Early Childhood Education major, while Hasemeier and Marsh major in Letters & Sciences.

After nearly 25 more minutes of gritty, hard-fought hockey the Terrapins found the cage again. Rummer paid back the favor, breaking free on the right side and skipping a pass across the goal mouth to Marsh, who was waiting on the doorstep to bury it with a slapshot. PRINCETON, N.J. –Carissa Messimer buried a penalty shot with seven minutes to play and also handed out an assist to help the Terps tie the game as Maryland downed Princeton, 2-1. Kerry Hearsey made five brilliant saves and the Terp defense was able to limit Princeton's Ivy Friebe and the nation's top-rated attack to one goal as Maryland captured its third victory over a top-20 power.

It was an intense and extremely well played 70 minutes as two of the top offenses and defenses in the nation squared off. The Terrapins seemed in control in the opening minutes, but Friebe made Princeton's first opportunity count. After three and a half minutes of hockey played exclusively on the Tigers' defensive side of the field, Friebe raced downfield on a breakaway and grounded the ball into the cage.

The level of play in the second half paralleled the first, as both teams both put forth an equally tremendous effort. Maryland's backfield worked the ball forward to Messimer, who dodged defenders en route to the circle and skipped the ball toward the cage, where Tiffany Marsh deflected it high into the corner of the net.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Led by the two-goal effort of Tiffany Marsh, Maryland defeated its fourth-straight NFHCA top 20 opponent and picked up its second conference win of the season by blanking Duke, 5-0. Marsh's two goals in the first half sparked the Terrapins to their most efficient and relentless offensive performance of the season, as Maryland made the most of its 13 shots and saw seven different players register points.

Meanwhile, the Terrapin defense put together another solid effort to earn the sixth shutout of the season for Kerry Hearsey.

The first goal of the day for Marsh came only four minutes into the contest, and eventually proved to be the game-winner.

Kristin Harris picked up her first career assist, taking the ball into the circle and finding Marsh on the left post for the score. Emily Boyer registered her first assist of the season, similarly centering the ball to Marsh from the right wing, where the rookie assassin beat her defender and buried it in the 22nd minute.

The Terps continued their offensive efforts as the second half began. Less than eight minutes into the period, Colleen Barbieri was fouled on a breakaway, allowing Carissa Messimer a chance to convert her second penalty stroke of the year. With the Terrapins ahead 3-0, Messimer paid back the favor, taking a pass from Jackie Ciconte and delivering a rocket to Barbieri for a deflection goal on the right post.

Ciconte, who has been a recent sparkplug for the Terrapins off the bench, received the just desserts for her hustle on a late-game corner opportunity. Izzy Palmer rifled a shot in Ciconte's direction, which she deftly deflected into the goal cage.

The Terps went 16 players deep midway into the first half, posting its second shutout in as many days in earning the win and extend their current win streak to six games.

Amber McQuillan scored what would prove to be the game-winner in the seventh minute of the contest. After Wildcat keeper Sarah Nolan saved a penalty corner rocket by Terrapin senior Carissa Messimer converted on her second penalty stroke opportunity in two games to put the Terps ahead, 2-0.

NORFOLK, Va. – For the fourth time in the last five meetings, the outcome between Maryland and Old Dominion was decided by one goal as the Monarchs defeated the top-ranked Terps, 1-0.

The first half of the game was hard-fought and physical as both squads attempted to build offensive pressure. The Terrapins were denied on four penalty corner opportunities and narrowly missed on a pair of fast break chances, while Kerry Hearsey made two spectacular stops to keep the Monarchs at bay on the other end. The score was 0-0 at the break.

The Monarchs came out of the halftime huddle with intensity. CAROLINA TAR HEELS 3

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – In the past three regular-season meetings between the Maryland field hockey team and the North Carolina Tar Heels, the visiting team has won by a one-goal margin. Saturday's game continued that streak to four-straight as UNC fended off a Maryland comeback effort to hand the Terrapins a 3-2 loss.

Much of the first half was played in both teams' defensive midfields as both squads attempted to sustain an offensive drive. The Tar Heels finally broke though in the 22nd minute, when sophomore Kelsey Keeran scored one of her two goals off a rebound. Maryland raced to tie the game before the first half expired, with rookie forward Jackie Ciconte putting the Terps on the scoreboard with a deflection goal from the left side. Senior Kateri Simon registered one of her two assists by rifling the ball to Ciconte on the doorstep, who was there for the score with less than five minutes to play.

The Tar Heels continued to set the pace with two unanswered goals in the second period. Stephanie Fuller found the goal cage with an indirect corner deflection from Laura Douglas in the 47th minute, and Carolina increased its lead to 3-1 with Keeran's second goal less than four minutes later.

With time as the Terps' enemy, Maryland attempted to get the ball upfield for the next 25 minutes. With just under 13 minutes to play, the Terps were granted only their second penalty corner opportunity of the day. Senior Izzy Palmer made good on the attempt with a rocket that beat UNC keeper Amy Tran on the left side, after a pushout by junior Katrin Rummer and a stickstop by Simon. From there, UNC kept the ball in the Terps's backfield long enough to make it a 3-2 final.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – What a difference one day made for the Maryland field hockey team. Less than 24 hours after suffering a heartbreaking 3-2 loss at the hands of league-rival North Carolina, the Terps put together their most complete and dominating performance of the year, blanking James Madison 7-0. Nine different Maryland players registered points as the Terrapins downed a JMU squad that had beaten every other ACC school at some point during the 2002 regular season.

After early goals by both teams were whistled off the scoreboard, the Terrapins took off and never looked back. Carissa Messimer swept in the game-winner only six minutes into the match off an indirect corner pass from Izzy Palmer.

Amber McQuillan scored off a cross-cage pass from Jackie Ciconte in the 22nd minute to make it 2-0 by halftime, but the Terps were far from finished. COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Maryland finished the regular season with an all-around solid performance, capturing a 6-1 victory over American on Senior Day. Upperclassmen Carissa Messimer, Kateri Simon and Izzy Palmer were honored before the match and performed brilliantly during it to lead the Terps to a 19-2 shot advantage and a final regular-season home victory.

Only moments after being introduced, Palmer and Simon combined with junior Katrin Rummer to put the Terps on the scoreboard with a direct corner goal. The Terrapins controlled the play in the first half, but American made its lone fast break opportunity count when sophomore Hope Mandel took a long upfield pass and raced it to the goal cage for a score, tying the game at one. Jackie Ciconte made sure the Eagles' momentum wouldn't last when she finished off a pass from Colleen Barbieri with under four minutes to play before halftime.

The Terps stepped it up in the second half, netting four unanswered goals and dispelling any hopes of an upset. Rookie forward Tiffany Marsh collected a loose ball following a Terp corner opportunity in the 42nd minute and buried it for a 3-1 Maryland advantage. She notched her second goal of the day only 1:14 later when Rummer found her on the doorstep with a long crossing pass.

Not to be outdone by the rookie on Senior Day, Messimer rifled in her first goal of the match in the 53rd minute to put the Terps up 5-1.

DURHAM, N.C. – Maryland turned Durham, N.C., into "comeback city," overcoming a two-goal halftime deficit and topping North Carolina, 3-2 in overtime."Jackie Ciconte finished off a brilliant pass from Colleen Barbieri with just over two minutes to play in the extra session to complete the improbable comeback and lift the Terrapins to the 2002 ACC Championship game.

With their season on the line headed into the ACC semifinal match-up, the Tar Heels put together an impressive first half. Coming out with intensity from the opening whistle, UNC cracked the scoreboard less than six minutes into the match when sophomore Katy Potter collected a rebounded shot and lifted it into the cage. The Tar Heels made it 2-0 before intermission when sophomore Kerry Falgowski broke away for a goal at 13:39.

Fueled with a new energy after the break, the Terrapins began to mount their comeback. Only two minutes into the second period

Carissa Messimer tipped in a pass from Katrin Rummer during a melee in front of the goal cage. The Terrapins battled to earn six second-half penalty corners, and tied the game in the 53rd minute when Izzy Palmer rifled in a straight shot from Kateri Simon and Rummer. Both teams' defenses prevailed for the rest of regulation and the game went to overtime tied 2-2.

Both squads played with ferocity during the ensuing seven-aside play, and North Carolina had a pair of near-goal attempts thwarted by Terp netminder'Kerry Hearsey. Finally, in the 82nd minute Simon sprung Barbieri with a pass up the left sideline, who beat a defender and drew Carolina keeper Amy Tran away from the cage before finding Ciconte on the right post for the score.

DURHAM, N.C. – The Maryland field hockey team just couldn't get it going in the second half and Wake Forest captured the first ACC field hockey title in school history as the Terps fell in the conference championship game, 4-0. The Terrapins had reached the final for the fifth straight season but the day belonged to the Deacons.

The Terps played well in the opening period but just could not find the goal. Wake Forest was able to withstand one Maryland penalty corner early on and hold the Terps to two shots, while Maryland's defense kept the Deacons off the scoreboard until late in the first half. Wake made the most of its lone corner opportunity when senior Heather Aughinbaugh slid the ball into Kelly Dostal, who slapped it into the left corner of the cage. Wake took a 1-0 lead into the halftime huddle.

Wake attempted to keep its momentum at the start of the second period, and took a 2-0 advantage when Dostal slammed a free hit to Maeke Boreel, who deflected it up and into the right corner of the goal. The Deacs increased their lead to 3-0 on an indirect corner play where Aughinbaugh slid the ball out and received it from Dostal for the sweep.

Izzy Palmer and Colleen Barbieri were named to the 2002 ACC All-Tournament Team.

NORFOLK, Va. – Maryland splashed through heavy downpours and battled for more than 74 minutes of rain-soaked field hockey to down William & Mary, 2-1, in overtime in the first round of the 2002 NCAA Tournament. Old Dominion's Foreman Field, which could have been referred to as "Lake Foreman" midway through the first half, proved to be a neutralizer under extremely wet conditions.

Carissa Messimer took an extra-time pushout from Colleen Barbieri and drove along the endline for the game-winning goal in the 74th minute. The 2002 All-ACC selection snaked through the defense, used a pass fake to draw out the keeper, and flipped it into the cage for the decisive score. The Terps' bench erupted after a hard-fought victory in the soggiest of conditions.

Maryland pummeled the Tribe with 14 second-half shots but could not convert in the torrential downpour. The Tribe smartly executed a corner play to tie the match in the 61st minute, when Ann Ekberg connected with Kate Baird for the score.

Tori Cano was brilliant in the cage for the Terps, making three saves in her second career start. Cano denied Ekberg, the Tribe's leading scorer, on a breakaway in the first half to preserve the Maryland lead.

NORFOLK, Va. – The Old Dominion Lady Monarchs will be heading to its 15th "Final Four" as they defeated Maryland, 4-1, on a rainy afternoon at Foreman Field in NCAA Tournament second round action.

Old Dominion, ranked number one in the final STX/NFHCA Poll and the top seed in this year's NCAA Tournament, improved to 20-3 overall. Fifth-ranked Maryland completes its season 17-5. Maryland and Old Dominion were the only two teams this season to hold on to the top spot in the STX/NFHCA Division I Coaches' Poll.

Lady Monarch Angie Loy collected the hat trick leading Old Dominion with three goals. Sister, senior midfielder Becky Loy, added in the fourth and final tally for ODU. The Terps' Tiffany Marsh scored the lone goal for Maryland.

Old Dominion took a 2-0 lead after the first half of play. Angie Loy scored the game's first goal 25 minutes into the contest on a breakaway into the circle. Loy then collected goal number two on a tip-in off a pass from senior midfielder Tiffany Snow on a penalty corner

The Lady Monarchs extended their lead to 3-0 with 28:42 remaining in the game. After a missed shot on the Terp net, sophomore Lotte Bant fed the ball to Angie Loy, who was waiting directly in front of the Maryland net to record goal number three

The Terp offense did not give up though, breaking onto the scoreboard with 16:36 to go. Marsh reached the back of the Lady Monarch net off a rebound from the Old Dominion net minder. However, less than three minutes later, the Lady Monarchs upped its lead back to four as Becky Loy scored in a scramble in front of the Terp net

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 67 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

LIBRARIES

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library and White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

RESEARCH

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their unique interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location – just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis – enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

SERVICE

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high-technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The university last year opened the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, with its six state-of-the art performance halls, which has quickly become a center of cultural programming in the Washington metropolitan area. The university also boasts four art galleries and a broad range of public art throughout the beautiful campus. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '51
SIXTH YEAR AT MARYLAND

When C. D. "Dan" Mote Jr. became the 19th president of the University of Maryland on Sept. 1, 1998, he proclaimed it a university "on the move." Five years later, under his guidance, Maryland continues to move – at an ever-accelerating rate – on the field, in the classroom, in the community and in the world.

Leading a great university is a big job, but it's a role that Mote is accustomed to, having spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all his degrees, chaired one of the nation's top-ranked departments of Mechanical Engineering, and eventually became Vice Chancellor for University Relations before coming to Maryland.

The University of Maryland is the State of Maryland's most important asset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

As president, Mote is committed to making that asset even greater by nourishing a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, providing the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's connections with its various stakeholders, building partnerships with State and national corporations and federal agencies and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress can be seen in every area, from its nationally-ranked programs to its growing range of partnerships to its world-class, state-of-the-art facilities.

QUALITY PROGRAMS

Over the past decade, the quality of Maryland's programs has grown by leaps and bounds. In 2003, the University of Maryland moved up to 18th place among public universities in U.S. News & World Report rankings, the first time it has broken into the top 20 in its steady climb to distinction. We currently have 49 graduate and undergraduate programs and units ranked in the top 15 by U.S. News & World Report, up from 5 eight years ago.

While our academic successes have spread across the board, the university has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, environmental policy, education and journalism. Maryland is one of only 10 public and private universities that have their programs in computer science, mathematics, physics, and engineering each ranked in the top 20, and the Robert H. Smith School of Business is one of 6 nationally ranked in both the top 10 Business Faculty in Teaching and the top 10 Business Faculty in Research.

FACULTY STATURE

With the addition during Mote's third year of a Nobel Laureate in Physics and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty), Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. This past year a faculty member was the recipient of the Japan Prize, an award given by the Japanese government in technology that is equivalent to the Nobel prizes. More than 30 of our faculty are members of the national academies, the highest professional recognition attainable.

Experts on the Maryland faculty are regularly sought by the news media for their views on a wide variety of issues, including political events, international affairs, social trends, economics, the environment, science and technology.

TALENTED STUDENTS

Over the past 10 years, it has become a cliché to announce that each year's new freshman class is the most talented ever. The average GPA of entering students in fall 2003 is 3.9, while the average SAT score is nearly 1,300.

Not surprisingly, the number of students enrolling in honors and other special programs has also skyrocketed in recent years. Our extremely popular living-learning programs, which bring together students with similar academic interests in a residential setting, were ranked 3rd in the country in the latest U.S. News & World Report. In the last academic year, over 6,000 students enrolled in such programs as Gemstone, College Park Scholars, and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in the 2002 NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America. "That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
10TH YEAR AT MARYLAND • ELON '74

Deborah A. Yow is in the tenth year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a year that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought about continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's nine years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships as Maryland athletics has soared to new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics three years ago is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges in the U.S. and Canada. She was recently singled out by Street and Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading administrators in the U.S. and she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations, as well as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television for the 2003-04 academic year. The committee, comprised of the ACC's athletics directors, is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Additionally, in May, she was chosen as one of three recipients of the 2003 Women of the Year award by Women in Sports and Events.

Yow, who recently served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America. Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsible, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all nine of the annual department's budgets (the first balanced budget in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $42 million annually and the sizable prior accumulated operating debts have been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 240 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 275 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 25 teams.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Selected recently by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In football, won the 2002 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl and followed this with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl in December. In men's basketball, the Terps advanced to the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament following its second consecutive Final Four and the National Championship in 2002. The Terps are among only a few NCAA institutions to have achieved this level in both these revenue sports in the same year.

Additionally, Maryland is one of only five universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Ohio State and Maryland).

- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S.
- Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways and has won seven consecutive national championships through 2001.
- Enhancing football facilities significantly with Team House and practice field upgrades.
- Moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center
- The athletics budget was balanced for the ninth consecutive year.
- In 2002-03, 10 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past nine years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also be highly organized, strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. he is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University – Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

Field Hockey Sport Supervisor

Jackie Campbell

ASSOC. ATHLETIC DIRECTOR FOR COMPLIANCE
FIRST YEAR AT MARYLAND • VIRGINIA '83

Jackie Campbell is in her first year as Maryland's associate athletics director for compliance. Campbell comes to Maryland after serving as the associate director of athletics for student services at the University of Connecticut since March 2002.

In her position at Maryland, Campbell supervises two full-time compliance officers and matters related to recruiting, eligibility, financial aid and rules education , as well as supervising two sports.

While at UConn, Campbell worked with student-service programs involved with housing, financial aid, dining services and summer school, and was responsible for advising student-athletes in those areas. She also directed the Huskies' programs in sports medicine, as well as strength and conditioning, while serving as a sport administrator.

Prior to Connecticut, Campbell was the assistant commissioner for compliance at the Atlantic 10 Conference. Starting in 1997, she helped the conference's member institutions monitor conference compliance issues, and administered the league's National Letter of Intent program among other duties. Campbell was a member of the NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Committee for three seasons, and spent a year with the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Committee.

Campbell also worked at the NCAA as an assistant chief of staff for Division I. While there, she assisted the organization in a transition period between the old and new forms of governance as it related to Division I schools. She was a legislative assistant at the NCAA for more than five years, coming to the organization after starting her administrative career at the University of Pittsburgh after earning an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship for sports administration.

An outstanding student-athlete in her own right, Campbell was selected in January 2000 as the top female athlete in Burlington (N.J.) County history. She was inducted into the South Jersey Basketball Hall of Fame in February 2001.

A graduate of the University of Virginia with a bachelor's degree in marketing in 1983, Campbell was a member of the Cavaliers' field hockey team for four years and the women's basketball team for three seasons. Her 69 career goals is third in the Cavalier field hockey annals. She also holds a master's in sports management from the University of Massachusetts.

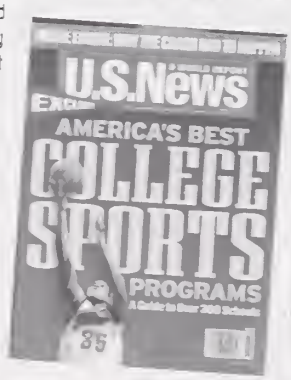
Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Robert Koonce, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Koonce (above) works with the field hockey team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, a program assistant and the learning specialist; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.



Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a

Strength & Conditioning

Collegiate field hockey has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Barry Kagan (right) that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the field hockey team has brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for field hockey is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. White makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in field hockey goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the volleyball team here at Maryland. The strength and conditioning staff puts a great emphasis on improving the quickness of the Terps through increased mechanical efficiency and the improvement of acceleration of maximum velocity.
